

MilkWorks was chosen by the United States Breastfeeding Committee as one of eight projects in the US to photodocument in collaboration with the new federal Call to Action to Support Breastfeeding. Erica Thompson from Images for a Lifetime spent about 12 hours capturing what happens at MilkWorks.

When the US Surgeon General released the Call to Action via web cast on January 20, 2011, the very first image projected was of Suzy Meyers, one of MilkWorks LCs, working with a breastfeeding mother. The 100 page document that will be released around the country contains numerous photos from MilkWorks. We are pleased to be part of the national attention that breastfeeding support is receiving.
